

Privacy policy

By using the website you agree to the use of “cookies”, in line with the Cookies Policy. If you do not agree to the use of so-called “cookies”, you should change your browser settings, or opt out of using the site altogether.

What are “cookies”

“Cookies” are the small files that are saved and stored on your computer, tablet or smartphone when you actually use the website. A “cookie” usually contains the name of the website it comes from, its own “life expectancy” (i.e. its lifetime), as well as an accidentally generated, unique number that is used to identify the browser from which the website is being accessed.

What are the “cookies” used for?

- They help the website work faster and make it easier to use
- They help to tailor better the actual website content and the adverts to your own requirements and interests
- They are used to collect anonymous statistics that facilitate better appreciation how the website is used, and enhance overall functionality and content of the statistics.

Configuring and deleting „cookies”

By default, web browsers allow the placement of “cookies” on the end device. These settings can be changed to block the automatic handling of “cookies” in your web browser settings, or request information about them every time they are being sent to your device. Detailed information about the possibilities and the ways of handling “cookies” are available in the software settings (web browser settings).
